HAVE YOU TRIED PAXTINE

The Great Toilet Germicide?

The Great Toilet Germicide?

You don't have to pay 50c or $1.00 a pint for listerian antiseptics or peroxide. You can make 16 pints of a more cleansing, germicidal, healing and deodorizing antiseptic solution with one 25c box of Paxtine—a soluble antiseptic powder, obtainable at any drug store.

Paxtina destroys germs that cause disease, decay and odors—that is why it is the best mouth wash and gargle, and why it purifies the breath, clearises and preserves the teeth better than ordinary dentifrices, and in sponge bathing it completely eradicutes perspiration and other disagreeable body odors. Every dainty woman appreciates this and its many other tober and hygienic uses.

Paxtine is splendid for sore throat, inflamed eyes and to purify mouth and breath after smoking. You can get Paxtine Toilet Antiseptic at any drug store, price 25c and 50c, or by mail postpaid from The Paxtine Toilet Co., Boston, Mass., who will send you a free sample if you would like to try it before buying. Edmund Clarence Stedman, war correspondent of the New York World, reported the buttle near Manassas, filling seven columns of his paper. He said: The three Connecticut regiments and the Fourth Maine came on with a will; the First Connecticut was posted in reserve and the other three corps swept up the field, by the ford on the right, to aid the struggling advance. The Sixty-ninth regiment took and lost a battery eight times in succession and were finally compelled from exhaustion to resign the completion of the work to the Connecticut regiments which had come up. The Third finally carried that summit, unfurled the flag and paused from the fight to cheer for the union cause.

July 26, 1861—A telegram from Captain Chester to Isaac H. Bromley stated: I have lost John Jennings, J. E. Wilkinson (of Putnam) and David Rosenblatt. John Jennings was the son of James Jennings of Preston, who told him when he started: "Do your duty, my son; if you fall, your brother shall take your place, and after him, i shall so myself." Mr. Wilkinson was a printer in Putnam. Mr. Rosenblatt worked in the Falls mill.

Capt. Edward Harland wired The Bulletin: "In the battle of on Sunday we lost but one man, David C. Case of Norwich." He was the son of Deacon Samuel Case of Norwich Town. Joseph Case intends to enlist immediately and will avenge his brother's death.

A Washington despatch says the Third regiment lost 60 men, over half of whom were killed, the Second had one killed, ten wounded, and the First four wounded four or five missing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is effective for coughs and colds in either children or grown persons.
